

ASPD 2005: Networking for Success

Learn the importance and relevance of networking for your professional success. This course is designed for students who want to identify, understand, and develop personal strengths and relationships to explore and expand professional opportunities.

Credits: 1.0

Program: Arts & Sciences Professional Development