

ASPD 2017: Mathematical Communities

This course is an introduction to the study of mathematics. Creative thinking, problem solving, and collaboration are explored. Mathematics research and careers in the mathematical sciences are emphasized. Students also build community with fellow math majors. This course is restricted to First-year Mathematics majors

Credits: 1.0

Program: Arts & Sciences Professional Development