

ASPD 2032: The Intersection of Work & Pol

This course aims to prepare students for a job market and professional environment in which political concerns and controversies are appearing in new and sometimes problematic ways. The course is based around specific questions and problems, and addresses them through specific cases.

Credits: 1.0

Program: Arts & Sciences Professional Development