

ECE 7000: Renewable Energy Policy

An introduction to renewable energy policy from inception to current state of the industry. Deals with the evolution of policy from monopolistic to competitive marketplace. Study will include the various factors affecting this process.

Credits: 3.0

Program: Electrical and Computer Engineering