

ENG 4000: American Literary Trad 1

By studying Black, Latinx, Native, and white writers from the 1600s through 1945, this course introduces the literary history of what we now call the United States, inviting students to learn from stories and voices typically left out of more official "American" history.

Credits: 3

Program: English