

BIO 3591: General Microbiology Lecture

This is the lecture-only alternative to the lecture/lab course BIO 3595: General Microbiology. Bacteria, viruses, eukaryotic microbes, immune function. Microbes in air, water, soil: interactions with plants and animals. Agricultural, commercial, industrial, and medical applications.

Credits: 3

Prerequisites:

BIO 2105

BIO 2105 or HON 1075

Program: Biology