

EGEN 5100: Medical Tech Commercialization

Working with a novel medical device, the course covers the process of medical technology commercialization. Topics include voice of the customer, clinical needs analysis, competitive positioning, and market entry strategy. Intellectual property management, regulatory process, and reimbursement are explored.

Credits: 3

Program: Engineering