

History

In May 2014, Villanova University created the College of Professional Studies (CPS)— the first new College at the University in 50 years. CPS provides academically rigorous undergraduate degree and certificate programming, as well as professional education —on campus and online—for the adult learner and working professional.

CPS continues Villanova's century-old tradition of service to adult learners and complements Villanova's breadth of academic offerings by providing innovative programs with flexible delivery options.