The Department of Military Science (Army ROTC)

ROTC Leadership Minor

The Leadership minor is available to Army Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) students who are pursuing undergraduate majors in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and College of Engineering. To declare the minor, students must have a cumulative GPA of 3.0. Eligible students must apply for the Leadership minor through the CPS Policies & Forms website. Once approved, students must meet with their designated advisor in CLAS or COE before registering for courses each semester. Courses are generally taught online and in an accelerated format and CLAS/COE Students are only permitted to take one (1) Fast Forward course in each semester. To graduate with a minor in leadership, ROTC students must take three (9 credits) advanced leadership courses from the list below. ROTC students declaring the Leadership minor do not have to take the LDR 2000 pre-requisite course to take advanced leadership courses. The student is responsible for ensuring that all minor requirements are met prior to graduation.

Due to College restriction on courses, students should contact cpsadvisor@villanova.edu for assistance with registration in these courses.
