About

The Department of Global Interdisciplinary Studies (GIS) provides students with a tripartite of skills, knowledge, and values that foster critical thinking, problem solving, and preparation for responsible global citizenship. Students gain an understanding of global studies, acquiring the know-how in global and digital literacy, cultural diversity and intercultural competences, interdisciplinary research, and a passion for social justice, nurtured in experiential learning.

Program: Global Interdisciplinary Studies

Type: Bachelor of Arts

PRIMARY MAJOR (122 credits)

Required Major Courses (36 credits)

With the capital Tokyo the world's largest metropolitan city, Japan occupies a prominent position on the global stage for its cutting-edge technologies humming across the country's archipelago of over 6,800 islands. Japanese Studies offers students extensive instruction in Japanese language coupled with interdisciplinary studies that position the language and culture of Japan in subject areas with global significance. Students will study Japanese to advanced levels, including taking courses on translation, with a capstone thesis partially written in Japanese. Sitting for external proficiency exams provides language certification, and a required Study Abroad experience provides experiential learning that re-enforces cultural literacy.
