

ECE 7545: Microelectronic Fabrication

Basic fabrication processes of silicon microelectronic technologies. Interrelationships between the material processing and the operational characteristics of a device. Integration of the various material processes in forming MOS integrated circuits and MEMS devices.

Credits: 3.0

Prerequisites:

ECE 3500

ECE 3500

Program: Electrical and Computer Engineering