

PSC 8825: Middle East Politics

Ways in which political patterns and crosscutting influences affect the fundamental concepts of political identity in the Arab world, Israel and Iran. The interaction of secular nationalism and political Islam, ideas of political thinkers and political movements.

Credits: 3.0

Program: Political Science