

EMB 1004: Management Information Systems

Fundamental concepts of contemporary information technology. Tools and techniques for making business decisions using computer-based information systems (CBIS). Impact of MIS and the risks and opportunities surrounding businesses in this information age. Topics: Strategic role of MIS, information resource management, telecommunications, information systems development, information technology and managerial decision aids.

Credits: 1.5