

EMB 1052: Talent Management

The course objective is to develop a strategic approach to people management through an understanding of processes and practices to attract talent, assess employee competencies and performance, develop employee skills and capabilities, identify and develop future leaders, and engage and retain workforces.

Credits: 3.0