

MAT 1313: Statistics for Life Sciences

Statistical concepts and methods with applications in biological and life sciences; data visualization, descriptive statistics, probability distributions, interval estimation and hypothesis testing for one and two variables, statistical software.

Credits: 3.0

Program: Mathematics and Statistics