

GEV 2500: Global Change in Local Places

Geographic research methods to address spatial implications of current local issues. Relationships between global environmental & societal processes & local landscapes. Collection, evaluation, analysis & presentation of qualitative & quantitative geographic data.

Credits: 3

Program: Geography and the Environment