

HIS 2265: American Military History

The wars of America from their European antecedents to 1900; relations between the military and society; role of the military in national development.

Credits: 3.0

Program: History